INDIA—SOUTH.

CEYLON—SOUTH COAST.

Unsuccessful search for shoal ground south-westward of Great Basses.

The following Notice to Mariners (No. 42 of 1890) issued by the British Admiralty is republished:—

Information having been received from Lieutenant A. Channer, R.N., that during the strength of the S.-W. monsoon in 1889 the light-keeper at Great Basses had reported that he saw the sea break about 6 miles distant, on a S.-W. or S.-W. by W. bearing, from Great Basses light-house, south coast of Ceylon; also that the Master of the steam-vessel Clan Drummond had reported that in the S.-W. monsoon of 1888 he had seen the sea break near that position, or about where a depth of 14 fathoms is marked on the Admiralty Chart.

An examination of the locality has been made by Commander R. F. Hoskyn, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India, in H.G.S.S. Investigator, with the following result:—

Depths of 29 to 31 fathoms were obtained between the bearings of S.-W. & S. and S.-W. by W. and distances of from 1 to 8 miles, from Great Basses light-house. No indications of shallow water were found, the bottom being mostly sand or coral; but enough soundings were not taken to disprove the possible existence of a rock. The whole of that neighbourhood is covered with swirls and eddies, caused apparently by the current sweeping past Great Basses, and Commander Hoskyn has no doubt that in a moderate breeze the sea would break in many places.

Sunken rock westward of Cape Helvetius.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 43 of 1890) of the existence of a sunken rock off Cape Helvetius, west coast of Bathurst island, on which the schooner Wanganui recently struck:—

The position given for the rock (Wanganui rock) is with Cape Helvetius bearing E. by S. distant 3 miles. The depth on the rock is probably less than 6 feet. As the distance of this rock from the land depends upon estimation, its position is very doubtful.

Note.—The attention of Mariners is directed to the cautionary Note on the Chart in this neighbourhood, and they are recommended not to approach the coast between Cape Fourcroy and Cape Helvetius within a distance of 8 miles, until further examination shall have been made.

AUSTRALIA—EAST COAST.

INNER ROUTE.

Sunken rock and bank eastward of Claremont No. X (Chapman) island; and non-existence of rock awash south-eastward of Young island.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 31 of 1890) that the following information has been received, relating to dangers found in the Inner Route, east coast of Australia, the result of recent examinations by Lieutenant and Commander G. C. Frederick, H.M.'s Surveying Vessel Dart :—

- (1) A sunken rock, composed of coral, with a depth of 5 feet on it at low water, is situated with Claremont No. X (Chapman) island, bearing W.S.W., distant 1½ miles.
Position: lat. 12° 53' S., long. 143° 39' 15" E.
- (2) A bank, with several patches of 2½ fathoms near its western edge, extending thence more than a mile to the eastward, with patches of 4 and 5 fathoms on it, lies between the above rock and Claremont No. X island.
From the shoalest part of this bank Claremont No. X island bears W. by S.; distant 8 cables.
- (3) A careful search was made for the rock awash at low water, marked on the charts in a position bearing S.E., distant 1½ miles from Young island. Depths of 12 to 14 fathoms, and a level bottom, were found all round and upon the assigned position of this rock; and at low water, and under favourable circumstances, no indications of shoal water were observed in the locality.

This rock has consequently been expunged from the Admiralty charts.

Position: lat. 12° 8' 30" S., long 143° 14' E.

Unsuccessful search for shoal ground south-westward of Great Basses.

The following Notice to Mariners (No. 42 of 1890) issued by the British Admiralty is republished:—

Information having been received from Lieutenant A. Channer, R.N., that during the strength of the S.-W. monsoon in 1889 the light-keeper at Great Basses had reported that he saw the sea break about 6 miles distant, on a S.-W. or S.-W. by W. bearing, from Great Basses light-house, south coast of Ceylon; also that the Master of the steam-vessel Clan Drummond had reported that in the S.-W. monsoon of 1888 he had seen the sea break near that position, or about where a depth of 14 fathoms is marked on the Admiralty Chart.

An examination of the locality has been made by Commander R. F. Hoskyn, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India, in H.G.S.S. Investigator, with the following result:—

Depths of 29 to 31 fathoms were obtained between the bearings of S.-W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. and S.-W. by W., and distances of from 4 to 8 miles, from Great Basses light-house. No indications of shoal water were found, the bottom being mostly sand or coral; but enough soundings were not taken to disprove the possible existence of a rock. The whole of that neighbourhood is covered with swirls and eddies, caused apparently by the current sweeping past Great Basses, and Commander Hoskyn has no doubt that in a moderate breeze the sea would break in many places.

Sunken rock westward of Cape Helvetius.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 48 of 1890) of the existence of a sunken rock off Cape Helvetius, west coast of Bathurst island, on which the schooner Wanganui recently struck:—

The position given for the rock (Wanganui rock) is with Cape Helvetius bearing E. by S. distant 3 miles. The depth on the rock is probably less than 6 feet. As the distance of this rock from the land depends upon estimation, its position is very doubtful.

- (1) A sunken rock, composed of coral, with a depth of 5 feet on it at low water, is situated with Claremont No. X (Chapman) island, bearing W.S.W., distant $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles.
Position: lat. $12^{\circ} 53' S.$, long. $143^{\circ} 39' 15'' E.$
- (2) A bank, with several patches of $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms near its western edge, extending thence more than a mile to the eastward, with patches of 4 and 5 fathoms on it, lies between the above rock and Claremont No. X island.
From the shoalest part of this bank Claremont No. X island bears W. by S., distant 8 cables.

Unsuccessful search for shoal ground south-westward of Great Basses.

The following Notice to Mariners (No. 42 of 1890) issued by the British Admiralty is republished:—

Information having been received from Lieutenant A. Channer, R.N., that during the strength of the S.-W. monsoon in 1889 the light-keeper at Great Basses had reported that he saw the sea break about 6 miles distant, on a S.-W. or S.-W. by W. bearing, from Great Basses light-house, south coast of Ceylon; also that the Master of the steam-vessel Clan Drummond had reported that in the S.-W. monsoon of 1888 he had seen the sea break near that position, or about where a depth of 14 fathoms is marked on the Admiralty Chart.

An examination of the locality has been made by Commander R. F. Hoskyn, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India, in H.M.S.S. Investigator, with the following result:—

Depths of 29 to 31 fathoms were obtained between the bearings of S.-W. & S. and S.-W. by W., and distances of from 4 to 8 miles, from Great Basses light-house. No indications of shoal water were found, the bottom being mostly sand or coral; but enough soundings were not taken to disprove the possible existence of a rock. The whole of that neighbourhood is covered with swirls and eddies, caused apparently by the current sweeping past Great Basses, and Commander Hoskyn has no doubt that in a moderate breeze the sea would break in many places.

Sunken rock westward of Cape Helvetius.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 43 of 1890) of the existence of a sunken rock off Cape Helvetius, west coast of Bathurst island, on which the schooner Wanganui recently struck:—

The position given for the rock (Wanganui rock) is with Cape Helvetius bearing E. by S. distant 3 miles. The depth on the rock is probably less than 6 feet. As the distance of this rock from the land depends upon estimation, its position is very doubtful.

NOTE.—The attention of Mariners is directed to the cautionary Note on the Chart in this neighbourhood, and they are recommended not to approach the coast between Cape Fourcroy and Cape Helvetius within a distance of 8 miles, until further examination shall have been made.

Revd. R. Robinson.

The first three gentlemen have been re-appointed by the Government of Bengal for a further term of three years. Mr. Robinson, who expressed a desire to withdraw from the governing body, has been succeeded by the Revd. F. W. Warne.

II. Capital and Income.—The capital of the Institution has been increased, by the further investment of Rs. 7,500, to Rs. 6,67,500. The amount is held by the Comptroller General in stock notes, yielding an annual net interest of Rs. 26,620.

III. Election.—The annual election was held in the month of August. For the fourteen vacancies advertised ninety four applications were received. The election of fourteen children as foundationers was, as usual, made by the Governors on the report of a Sub-Committee. One foundationer was, on the application of her mother, transferred from the Calcutta Free School, where she had been for the past two years, to the Loretto Convent School, Entally; one in the Calcutta Girls' School was withdrawn from the foundation, as it was ascertained that her mother's income was sufficient to enable her to educate her child without help; and two more, one in the Loretto Convent School, Entally, and the other in the Pratt Memorial School, were withdrawn by their guardians.

At the close of the year there were 97 girls on the foundation, distributed among the various schools as follows:—

Loretto Convent School, Entally	48
Calcutta Free School	21
St Paul's Mission School	2
Pratt Memorial School	12
Doveton Institution for Young Ladies	2
Protestant European Orphanage for Girls, Cuttack	8
St. Joseph's Convent School, Cuttack	2
Calcutta Girls' School	7
		Total	...	97

The following table gives particulars of the class and religion of the girls on the foundation:—

Class.	Roman Catholic.	Church of England.	Non-Conformists.	Total.
I.—Orphans or deserted by their parents	21	18	34
II.—Fatherless, or deserted by their father, or father incapable.	27	26	6	59
III.—Cases of extreme poverty	8	1	1	4
Total	56	40	7	97

IV. Education and Maintenance.—The average monthly cost of the education and maintenance of each girl on the foundation amounted to Rs. 15-6-7, or 12 annas 5 pies less than in the preceding year. The total amount paid under the head of "Education and Maintenance" was Rs. 17,940, or Rs. 2,418 above that of the previous year.

V. Inspection.—The Venible Archdeacon F. R. Michell and the Revd. R. Robinson were appointed visiting Governors for the year. Their reports were uniformly satisfactory. Good accounts have also been generally received from the school authorities with regard to the conduct, application and attendance of the foundationers.

The Revd. R. Robinson, in his report, states that he was particularly pleased with the Loretto Convent School at Entally, where order, tidiness and cleanliness mark all the appointments, and where the children are systematically trained to help themselves in respect of most of those domestic arrangements which elsewhere necessitate the employment of servants. He adds that these remarks also apply to the Calcutta Free School.

VI. Meetings.—Five meetings were held during the year, and among the matters discussed the following may be noted:—

1. Recognition of St. Joseph's Convent School at Cuttack as suitable for the education and maintenance of Bruce founders under rule 39 of the scheme.

2. The selection of cheaper schools for the education and maintenance of Bruce founders.

The British Admiralty has given Notice (No. 81 of 1890) that the Master of the S. S. Omavere has reported that, when proceeding from Thompson sound to Doubtful inlet, the vessel (drawing 12½ feet water) struck on a sunken rock, the position of which is uncertain, no bearings having been taken.

The position of the rock in the passage between Secretary island and Wood head was estimated to be a little more than one-third of the distance from Common head (the south east extreme of Secretary island) to Seymour islet (situated about 5 cables northward of Wood head). Non-existence of Harrington rock.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 128 of 1890) that the following information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander G. C. Frederick, H. M. Surveying-vessel Dart, relative to a search made in December 1889 for Harrington rock, reported in 1874 as lying southward of Coquet island, Howick group, and to have less than 6 feet of water on it:—

The Dart was anchored 3 cables south-eastward of the reported position of Harrington rock (lat. $14^{\circ} 38\frac{1}{2}'$ S., long. $145^{\circ} 1\frac{1}{4}'$ E.), and the boats sounded closely around for a distance of $7\frac{1}{2}$ cables, without any evidence of shoal water being observed.

The soundings show the bottom as evenly sloping from 6½ fathoms near the track recommended on the west to 8 fathoms on the east, and no appearance of shoal or discoloured water was seen from the masthead. Subsequently the Dart steamed over the reported position.

On two previous occasions the Dart had passed close to the reported position without any indication of shoal water being seen.

Considering that in the original report there was no positive evidence of a rock, and that had one existed it would probably ere this have been again reported, this examination of Dart is considered to disprove the original report, and Harrington rock has therefore been removed from the Admiralty Charts.

The Accounts Registers are those which have to do with the receipt and payment of money.

3. The classes of Courts in which the different Registers are to be kept up, and the periods for which they are to be preserved, are shown in the accompanying lists. The periods stated therein are to be reckoned from the date of the last entry in the Register, and the Court is pleased to direct, under Section 2 of Act III of 1879, that, at the expiration of those periods, the Registers shall be destroyed. It is not necessary to open new Registers in every instance each year.

4. Wherever it is possible, the Primary Registers and the Accounts Registers should be kept in English.

5. While the Court does not positively forbid the maintenance of other Subsidiary Registers in the various Courts subordinate to it, the accompanying lists specify all the Registers which, it is believed, are absolutely necessary either for judicial or administrative purposes.

6. The forms in most cases sufficiently explain themselves. The following additional instructions are, however, issued for general guidance.

A—PRIMARY REGISTERS.

7. Registers 1 and 2, Register of Civil Suits and Register of Rent Suits.—To facilitate reference in the making up of Quarterly and Annual Statements, column 2 of the General Register of Suits prescribed by Section 58, Act XII of 1842, shall be sub-divided into two columns. The first sub-column shall contain the consecutive number of the suit in the General Register, the second shall contain a subordinate serial number for all suits of the following kinds, viz., (a) Small Cause Court class, and (b) Suits for Money, distinguishing suits up to Rs. 500 cognizable by Small Cause Courts from other cases.

For the column headed "Appearance" in the said General Register of Suits, and the sub-columns headed respectively "Day for parties to appear," "Plaintiff" and "Defendant" shall be substituted a column headed "Mode of disposal," with a sub-heading "Whether decided ex parte or after contest or on compromise." For the two sub-columns under the heading "Appeals," the following shall be substituted—"No. and date of Appeal" and "Date and purport of Judgment in Appeal." For the first sub-column under the head of "Execution" the following shall be substituted—"No. and date of application." In columns 17 and 18 shall be entered not only the particulars of the order on First Appeal, but also the particulars of the order on Second Appeal or Revision, if any.

The High Court takes this opportunity to impress upon the attention of all Subordinate Courts the necessity of duly and regularly filling in the particulars regarding proceedings in execution of decrees. The proceedings upon each application for execution should find a place in this Register which is intended to show a complete history of the suit from institution to final satisfaction of decree.

8. Register 11.—A separate Register of Execution Cases has been prescribed, not with the object of superseding the information to be entered in the execution columns of the General Registers, but for the sake of administrative convenience, and also for the purpose of showing proceedings in execution of decrees of other Courts.

9. Register 13.—In the Register of Appeals prescribed by Section 548 of the Code of Civil Procedure for the column headed "Appearance" and the three sub-columns headed respectively "Date for parties to appear," "Appellant" and "Respondent" shall be substituted a column headed "Mode of disposal," with a sub-heading "Whether decided ex parte or after contest or on compromise." A column headed "Remarks" shall be added to this Register, and the particulars of any order passed on Second Appeal or Revision shall be entered therein.

10. Register 15.—In this Register shall be included Appeals from Orders under Section 588 of Act XIV of 1882, and Appeals in Miscellaneous Judicial Cases only. Applications to withdraw or transfer an Appeal under Section 25, Code of Civil Procedure, applications for the re-admission or re-hearing of an Appeal under Section 558 or 560, and applications for review of Judgment under Section 623, are not Appeals but of the nature of original applications though made to an Appellate Court. They will, therefore, be entered in the Register of Miscellaneous Judicial Cases (No. 7) kept up in that Court, and they will be shown in Monthly Statement B, Part 2, Quarterly Statement B, and Annual Statement 4, Part 2.

When an appeal is remanded, revived or reviewed it will of course be shown in its proper place in the Registers of Appeals.

11. Register 17.—Register 17 shall be used in Courts of Small Causes only, and not by Munsifs and Subordinate Judges vested with Small Cause Court powers.

12. Register 18.—Register 18 shall be used in Courts of Small Causes, and every Subordinate Judge and Munsif vested under Section 25, Act XII of 1887, with the jurisdiction of a Judge of a Court of Small Causes, whatever the pecuniary limits assigned, shall use this Summons Book for purposes of record in connection with cases tried under such powers.

13. The High Court do not consider it necessary to prescribe a Register for any cases of a non-judicial nature other than those which will be entered in Registers 9 and 10.

B—SUBSIDIARY REGISTERS.

14. Register 1.—The Diary shall contain all the particulars entered in the form, and each day's entry shall be signed by the presiding officer before leaving the Court. Each case fixed for any day shall be entered in advance immediately upon a date or adjourned date being fixed, and the entry as to each case shall show whether it is for final disposal at the first hearing or for settlement of issues or for trial after adjournment, or for any other purpose. The Diary shall show briefly the progress made in each case, and when witnesses are examined in any case the number of such witnesses shall be stated.

15. Register 2.—The Register of Petitions requires no explanation. The number of petitions received each day with their serial numbers, as shown in this Register, shall be entered in the Diary.

16. Register 3.—The instructions given at the foot of the Register of Attendance of Witnesses shall be carefully followed.

17. Register 7.—The Register of Applications for Copies shall be in charge of the comparing clerk and not of a copyist. Applications for copies, or inspection of Wills and Registers of Wills, shall, in accordance with the orders of the Government of Bengal, be entered in this Register.

18. Registers 8 and 9.—The District Judge shall furnish each Civil Court Amin with copies of these two Registers, which shall be kept up regularly by the Amin.

19. Register 18.—There shall be maintained in each of the Subordinate Civil Courts a Register in this form of all Pleaders and Mukhtars enrolled in it under sections 8 and 9 of the Legal Practitioners Act (XVIII of 1879).

C—ACCOUNTS REGISTERS.

20. Register 20.—The Sale Account Register shall be filled up in every case by the Nazir or other officer holding the sale, and shall be presented by him at the close of the day to the presiding officer of the Court under the orders of which the sale has been held.

The provisions of the Civil Procedure Code render it necessary that cash should sometimes be received by the Nazir even where sales are held at head-quarters where there is a treasury. It is therefore very important that all Judges should see that the cash so received is duly forwarded to the treasury and credited in account, and it is the object of the Sale Account Register to bring to the notice of the Judges all such cash transactions that they may satisfy themselves as to the regular and immediate disposal of the proceeds.

21. Registers 23 and 24.—The Detailed Daily Register of Court-fees realized shall be kept in order to secure the accuracy of entries made in the Abstract Daily Register of Court-fees realized, and the instructions at the foot of the form shall be carefully observed.

The form of Abstract Daily Register of Court-fees realized has been prescribed for adoption by the Government of India and shall be regularly maintained. The entries in this Register are not to be made in detail, but only so as to show the aggregate value of the stamps filed in Court during each day under each of the five classes indicated. The entries shall be initiated daily by the presiding officer.

22. The instructions as to the keeping of the Account Registers, contained in the rules for the receipt and payment of money by Judicial Officers, which are incorporated in Chapter III, of the High Court's Civil Rules and Orders, should be carefully observed. The forms, which for the sake of convenience are attached to these rules, are the same as those contained in that Chapter.

23. These rules shall take effect from the 1st of January, 1891.

Previous Rules cancelled.

24. The following rules in the General Rules and Circular Orders, Civil, have been either superseded or are cancelled by the rules now issued:—

INSTRUCTIONS.—This Register will show all witnesses, including complainants in the Criminal Courts, who attend for the purpose of being examined in any case. A witness will be considered to have appeared on any day if he attend sufficiently early to allow of his deposition being recorded. Columns 1 to 4 will be filled in daily, for every witness reported to be in attendance for the first time and entries in red ink must be made in columns 6 to 9, as may be necessary, on account of the subsequent re-appearance and discharge of the same witness from time to time until the case is terminated. If any witness reappears after being three times discharged a new series of entries in red ink must be made in columns 6 to 9 against his name, immediately under the previous entries. Columns 10 to 18 will be filled up when the witness is finally discharged, the initials of the presiding officer being intended to touch for the correctness of the entries. The number of days to be entered in column 10 to 16 will be calculated by reckoning the total number of days elapsing between each successive appearance and discharge, including the days on which these occurred. In column 17 a distinctive mark should be made to show those witnesses who were finally discharged without examination, in order to assist in the preparation of the Annual Returns. Any amount paid as expenses to witnesses should be entered in column 18, and, if the payment be made in Court, the witnesses' receipts should be taken at the time of payment in column 19.
